Admiralty-Office, October 20, 1781.

THE following are Extracts of Letters from Rear-Admiral Edwards, Commander in Chief of His Majeſty's Ships employed on the Newfoundland Station, to Mr. Stephens.

St. John's, Newfoundland, Auguſt 26, 1781.

ON the 12th of July we ſaw a Ship to Windward, which the Portland and Veſtal gave Chace and came up with. She proved to be the Ship Royal Louis, an American Privateer from Salem, of Sixteen Carriage Guns, Six Pounders, and One hundred Men.

I found His Majeſty's Sloop Cygnet at St. John's. On the 25th of May ſhe took a ſmall Privateer Sloop, called the Fiſh Hawke, of Six Guns and Thirty-two Men; and, on the 2d of June following, a Ship called the Mercury from Piſcataway, bound to the Weſt-Indies with Lumber.

Captain Lloyd in the Oiſeau, from Liſbon, arrived here the 19th of May, having parted from his Convoy on the 28th of April, off the Iſland of St. Mary's, as their Lordſhips will have been informed of by his Letter to you of the 6th of May; but I am glad it is in my Power to acquaint them, that his Apprehenſion of many of them being taken was not well founded; as they have all, except the Bee and Succeſs Brigs, arrived here ſafe with their Cargoes.

The Oiſeau ſailed on a Cruize again the 16th of June, and returned the 2d of July, in which Time ſhe captured the Ship Congreſs, an American Privateer of Eighteen Guns, Nine Pounders, and One Hundred and Twenty Men; the Brig Active, of Fourteen Guns, Six Pounders, and Forty-two Men; the Brig Shark, of Fourteen Guns, Six Pounders, and Seventy-two Men; and retook the Jenny Brig, with Salt for this Iſland, and brought them ſafe in here. She alſo captured the Sloop Crawford, laden with Tobacco; but not having heard of her ſince, it is ſuppoſed ſhe was retaken ſoon after.

On the 7th of Auguſt, Captain Parker of the Maidſtone ſent a ſmall Privateer Brig, called the Lyon of Salem, mounting Ten Guns, and Forty-two Men, into this Harbour, having taken her on the 2d off Cape Chaparouge.

This Morning a large American Ship, Privateer, called the Lyon, of Eighteen Guns and One Hundred and Fourteen Men, arrived here. She was taken, on the 14th Inſtant, by the Portland and Æolus, and had been only Twenty-one Days from Salem.

St. John's, Newfoundland,
September 28, 1781.

ON the 3d the Surprize and Danae arrived from Halifax, having ſeen the Tranſports and Trade ſafe in there, and carried in with them Three American Privateers, viz. Venus, of Sixteen Guns and Eighty-three Men; Independence of Sixteen Guns and Eighty-three Men; and Diana, of Ten Guns and Thirty-ſeven Men, which they captured on their Paſſage. They alſo retook the Lockhart Roſs, a Ship from Quebec, which had been taken a few Days before by Two French Frigates.

On the 9th the Æolus, Portland, and Veſtal, arrived from a Cruiz. On the 2d they fell in with and took the Ship Diſdain, an American Privateer, of Sixteen Guns and Seventy-ſix Men, and retook the Ship Martha, Samuel Ripp, Maſter, from Montego Bay, with Rum and Sugar, which had been taken Two or Three Days before by the Diſdain. On the 16th they ſailed, and Two Days after ſent in a ſmall Privateer Brig, called the Captain, of Six Guns and Thirty-two Men.

Beſides the aforementioned, the Montgomery Privateer, of Fourteen Guns and 50 Men, was taken on the 5th of Auguſt by the Marlborough.

Dublin Caſtle, October 11.

THE Houſes of Lords and Commons having reſolved upon humble Addreſſes to His Majeſty, the ſame, together with Addreſſes from both Houſes to the Lord Lieutenant, were this Day preſented to his Excellency, and, with his Excellency's Anſwers, are as follow:

To the KING's Moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament aſſembled.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament aſſembled, moſt truly humble how propitious your Majeſty's Reign hath been to this Kingdom, and impreſſed with a due Senſe of the many and great Bleſſings which we and all our Fellow Subjects here enjoy, beg Leave to approach your Majeſty, with our warmeſt and moſt grateful Acknowledgement, and with our moſt ſincere Profeſſions of Loyalty and Attachment to your Majeſty's Sacred Perſon, Family, and Government.

We entreat your Majeſty to accept our grateful Thanks for the Manifeſtation you have been graciouſly pleaſed to afford us of your Regard for, and Attention to this Kingdom, in ſending over to us, as our Chief Governor, his Excellency the Earl of Carliſle, whoſe cultivated and lofty Underſtanding, and whole Talents for Buſineſs, added to the Luſtre of his Birth, afford us the moſt promiſing Expectation, that the Happineſs and Proſperity of Ireland will be effectually promoted under his Adminiſtration.

The great Benefits which have lately been wiſely and liberally communicated to this Country, are happily felt in their Effects upon our Manufactures and Commerce, notwithſtanding the Obſtacles which a War, ſo extenſive as the preſent, neceſſarily induces, that we flatter ourſelves with ſtill greater and more diffuſive Advantages, whenever the Bleſſings of Peace ſhall be reſtored.

We cannot be ſufficiently thankful for the gracious Aſſurances we have received of your Majeſty's Royal Determination to continue your parental Attention to the increaſing Proſperity of this Kingdom; and we are juſtly impreſſed with the important Truth, that the true Intereſts of Ireland muſt ever be inſeparable from Thoſe of Great Britain.

We receive, with the utmoſt Pleaſure, the Communication of the Birth of another Prince to your Majeſty; as that Event, at the ſame Time that it adds to your Majeſty's domeſtick Felicity, gives additional Strength to the Proteſtant Succeſſion in your Royal Family.

The Encouragement of our Manufactures, and the Extenſion of our Export Trade, with the other great and national Objects recommended to us from the Throne, cannot fail of having our earneſt Attention; and we ſhall endeavour, by our Counſels and Examples, to impreſs upon the Minds of the People that Reverence for the Laws, which is eſſential to the Peace and good Order of Society, and the Proſperity of every Country.

Your Majeſty's Tenderneſs for your Subjects here is ſtrongly manifeſted in your not directing that they ſhould be called upon for any extraordinary Exertions, in this Time of general Hoſtility; and we cannot, in Return, do leſs than aſſure your Majeſty, that you may rely upon our loyal and cordial Diſpoſition to afford your Majeſty every Aſſiſtance in our Power, if the unnatural and dangerous Combination of your Enemies ſhould make it neceſſary to call upon us.

The late ſpirited Offers of Aſſiſtance, which have been preſented to his Excellency our Chief Governor from every Part of the Kingdom, are moſt pleaſing Proofs that your loyal Subjects here behold, with a juſt Indignation, the hoſtile Combinations of your Enemies; and are ſo far from being diſmayed by them, that they have but ſerved to animate them with that Spirit, which, if they had been neceſſarily called upon, would not have diſappointed the warmeſt Expectations that could have been formed, of the Exertions of a brave and loyal People.

Wm. Watts Gayer, } Cler. Parliament.
Edw. Gayer, }

His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant's Anſwer:

I WILL take the firſt Opportunity of tranſmitting this dutiful and loyal Addreſs to be laid before His Majeſty.

To the KING's Moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Knights, Citizens, and Burgeſſes, in Parliament aſſembled.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Ireland, in Parliament aſſembled, approach your Majeſty with unfeigned and heart-felt Expreſſions of Duty, Loyalty and Attachment to your Majeſty's Perſon and Government.

We return our grateful Thanks to your Majeſty, for having placed in the Government of this Kingdom a Nobleman, from whoſe cultivated Talents, experienced Abilities, and known Virtues, we have every Reaſon to expect that the Happineſs of Ireland will be ſecured and increaſed.

The great and ſubſtantial Benefits which have been communicated to this Country, through the benign Influence of your Majeſty's Love for your Subjects, and the Wiſdom and Liberality of the Britiſh Parliament, are already felt in the Increaſe of our Manufactures, and the Extenſion of our Commerce, and we may reaſonably expect farther Facilities to the Exertion of Induſtry, and a farther Diffuſion of national Employment and Wealth, when the Bleſſings of Peace ſhall be reſtored to the World.

The

The gracious Aſſurance of your Majeſty's Royal Determination, to continue the moſt parental Attention to the increaſing Proſperity of Ireland, cannot but impreſs upon our Minds the warmeſt Senſations of Gratitude; and we feel the cleareſt Conviction, that the mutual Security and Strength of your Majeſty's Kingdoms can never be promoted but by the Spirit and Effect of that Policy, which conſiders their true Intereſts as ever inſeparable.

Deeply intereſted for our Sovereign's domeſtick Felicity, we offer our Congratulations to your Majeſty upon the Birth of another Prince; and conſider every Increaſe of your Majeſty's Family as adding Security to that happy Succeſſion, to which your Majeſty's loyal Subjects of Ireland have at all Times ſhewn the moſt ſteady and moſt inviolate Attachment.

Animated as well by our Affection to your Majeſty, as by our Attachment to the eſſential Welfare of our Conſtituents, we ſhall, ſo far as the Circumſtances of the Country will permit, with the utmoſt Chearfulneſs, grant ſuch Supplies as ſhall appear adequate to the Maintenance of Public Credit, the honourable Support of your Majeſty's Government, and the Security of the Kingdom: And we ſhall, without Delay, apply our Attention to whatever may contribute to improve the Management, or ſecure the Collection of the Public Revenues.

We acknowledge your Majeſty's tender Concern for the Public Welfare, in what has been recommended to us from the Throne, reſpecting the Linen Manufacture, Tillage, the Proteſtant Charter-Schools, the Corn Bounties, the interior Police of the Kingdom, and other great national Objects; and we ſhall not fail, on our Part, in that Regard which Matters of ſuch Importance deſerve.

We are farther ſenſible of your Majeſty's Goodneſs, in not having called upon your Kingdom of Ireland for any extraordinary Supplies, in this Time of general Hoſtility; and your Majeſty may be thoroughly perſuaded of our earneſt Diſpoſition to give every Aſſiſtance, compatible with our Means and Circumſtances, towards reſiſting and repelling the unnatural and dangerous Combination of Enemies, to which your Dominions are at preſent expoſed.

The Ardor with which the late Offers of Service were preſented from every Part of the Kingdom, has afforded the moſt convincing Proof, that the Strength and Spirit of your Majeſty's faithful People are animated by the warmeſt Loyalty towards your Perſon and Government; and we feel a conſcious Pride, that the Character which this Country muſt bear in the Eyes of Europe, will tend to eſtabliſh the Glory of your Majeſty's Government, and the Safety and Happineſs of this Kingdom.

Tho. Ellis, Cler. Parl. Dom. Com.

His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant's Anſwer:

I WILL forthwith tranſmit this dutiful and loyal Addreſs to be laid before His Majeſty.

To his Excellency Frederick Earl of Carliſle, Lord Lieutenant General and General Governor of Ireland.

The humble Addreſs of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament aſſembled.

May it pleaſe your Excellency,

WE His Majeſty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament aſſembled, return your Excellency our moſt humble and ſincere Thanks, for your moſt excellent Speech from the Throne; and we are happy in the Opportunity we now have of congratulating your Excellency upon your Appointment to the Government of this Kingdom, which we cannot but reckon amongſt the Circumſtances peculiarly fortunate to this Country at this auſpicious Period.

The beneficial Effects of what hath been of late ſo wiſely and liberally granted to this Country, are notwithſtanding the Difficulties induced by the preſent moſt extenſive War, ſuch as leave us no Room to doubt, that when the Bleſſings of Peace ſhall be reſtored, thoſe happy Effects will be more generally and in a much greater Degree experienced, in the Advancement of our Manufactures, the Extenſion of our Trade and Commerce, and by that general Increaſe of Employment, which will add to the Strength and Wealth of the Nation.

The Aſſurances given to us by your Excellency, of His Majeſty's moſt gracious Determination to continue His parental Attention to this Country, fill us with the warmeſt Sentiments of Gratitude.

We are truly thankful to your Excellency for the very kind Manner in which you are pleaſed to convey thoſe Aſſurances to us; and we do moſt cordially concur with your Excellency, that the true Intereſt of Ireland are, and muſt ever be, inſeparable from thoſe of Great Britain.

We have the moſt ſincere Pleaſure in the Addition to the Royal Family, by the Birth of another Prince to His Majeſty, as thereby His Majeſty's domeſtic Happineſs has received an Increaſe, and the Proteſtant Succeſſion a further Security.

We conſider it as a Proof of your Excellency's Zeal to extend the Advantages of Civil Society, and of your Benevolence and good Wiſhes towards this Country, that you are pleaſed to call our Attention to the Encouragement of our Trade, the Improvement of our Manufactures, and to the perfecting and enforcing the interior Police of the Kingdom: And we ſhould conſider ourſelves exceedingly deficient in our Duty to our Country, and in the Regard which we owe to your Excellency, if we did not endeavour, by our Counſels and Examples, to impreſs upon the Minds of the People that due Reverence of the Laws, which is neceſſary for the Well-being of Society, and the Proſperity of every Country.

We cannot but with Pleaſure remark your Excellency's particular Attention to the ſeveral other national and important Objects, which you have been pleaſed to mention: And we aſſure your Excellency that we will beſtow upon them that Regard which is due to Objects, which ſo much conduce to the Public Welfare.

We are happy in the Conſideration, that we poſſeſs His Majeſty's ardent Wiſhes for the Happineſs of His People: And beholding with Indignation the unnatural and dangerous Combination of His Enemies, we entreat your Excellency to aſſure His Majeſty, that we have the moſt cordial Diſpoſition to afford Him every Aſſiſtance in our Power.

The general Concurrence with which the late ſpirited Offers of Aſſiſtance have been preſented to your Excellency from every Part of the Kingdom, not only ſhew how juſtly His Majeſty has placed a firm Reliance in the Affection and Loyalty of His People of Ireland; but they do, together with the Manner in which your Excellency received thoſe Offers, afford that Diſplay of Harmony and juſt Confidence, which cannot fail of diſmaying our Enemies, and extinguiſhing in them every vain Hope, that they can oppoſe themſelves with Impunity to the Spirit of a brave and loyal People, eager, under your Excellency's Direction, to exert itſelf in Aid of His Majeſty's Regular Forces for the Public Defence.

Your Excellency's Ability and Readineſs to promote our Proſperity, of which we have already received the ſtrongeſt Pledges, cannot but engage our Confidence,

Confidence, and obtain from us the moſt cordial Concurrence towards the Eaſe and Honor of your Adminiſtration.

Wm. Watts Gayer,
Edward Gayer, } Cler. Parliament.

To which Addreſs His Excellency has been pleaſed to give this moſt gracious Anſwer.

My Lords,

I Return you my ſincereſt Thanks for this Addreſs. The Satisfaction which I feel from ſo full an Approbation of my Conduct, is greatly heightened by the cordial Unanimity with which it has been tendered, and impoſes on me the ſtrongeſt Obligation to continue to deſerve your favourable Opinion.

I ſhall faithfully repreſent your loyal Attachment to His Majeſty and His Government.

To his Excellency Frederick Earl of Carliſle, Lord Lieutenant General, and General Governor of Ireland,

The humble Addreſs of the Knights, Citizens and Burgeſſes, in Parliament aſſembled.

May it pleaſe your Excellency,

WE, His Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Ireland in Parliament aſſembled, return your Excellency our moſt humble Thanks for your excellent Speech from the Throne, congratulating your Excellency and ourſelves upon your Appointment to the Government of this Kingdom, which diſtinguiſhes a Period peculiarly auſpicious to Ireland. It cannot be doubted that a War, extending itſelf over ſo great a Part of the Globe, and eſpecially ſubſiſting between us and thoſe Countries with which we otherwiſe ſhould have much commercial Intercourſe, muſt have raiſed powerful Obſtacles to the Encouragement of Induſtry; but from the Progreſs which our Trade and Manufactures have nevertheleſs made, there can be little Doubt, that when the Bleſſings of Peace ſhall be reſtored, the ſubſtantial Effects of thoſe Benefits, which the Wiſdom and Liberality of the Britiſh Parliament have lately communicated to this Country, will be univerſally felt in the extenſive Diffuſion of national Employment and Wealth. We cannot ſatisfy ourſelves in Expreſſions adequate to our Sentiments of Gratitude, for the Aſſurances given by your Excellency, in His Majeſty's Name, of His Royal Determination to continue the moſt parental Attention to the increaſing Proſperity of this Country; nor can we ſufficiently thank your Excellency for the Pleaſure you expreſs in the Execution of theſe His Majeſty's Commands. We regard the Meaſures which have conduced towards that Proſperity with the moſt cordial Satisfaction; and convinced that the true Intereſts of His Majeſty's Kingdoms are, and ever muſt be inſeparable, we revere the comprehenſive Wiſdom and ſound Policy which ſeeks their mutual Strength and Security. We enjoy the higheſt Pleaſure in every Addition to our gracious Sovereign's domeſtic Happineſs, and eſpecially in the Birth of another Prince, rendering the Proteſtant Succeſſion more ſecure in the auguſt Houſe of Hanover. Zealouſly ſolicitous for the honorable Support of His Majeſty's Government, the Safety of the Kingdom, and the Maintenance of Public Credit, we will moſt chearfully make ſuch Proviſion for thoſe neceſſary Purpoſes as ſhall be ſuitable to the Circumſtances of our Country, and the Exigencies of the Public Service; and we ſhall conſider what may be requiſite to improve the Management of our Finances, and to give Security and Effect to the Collection of the Revenue; and we entertain a due Senſe of your Excellency's Readineſs to concur with us in ſuch Meaſures. Your Excellency's benevolent Deſire to promote whatever may contribute to the Advantages of Civil Society, cannot but receive the fulleſt Acknowledgments; and we humbly thank your Excellency for calling our Attention to the Improvement of our Manufactures, the Encouragement of our Trade, and the perfecting and enforcing of our interior Police, in which laſt we ſhould conſider our Deliberations as of little Avail, did we not firmly reſolve by Councel, and by the more prevalent Influence of Example, to impreſs upon the Minds of the People a becoming Reverence of the Laws. We ſhall continue our Attention to thoſe Seminaries of true Religion and honeſt Induſtry, the Proteſtant Charter Schools; as alſo to the Encouragement of the Linen Manufacture, of Tillage, of the Fiſheries, the Inland Carriage and Export of Corn, and other Objects of national Importance: In your Excellency's recommending of which to our Conſideration we ſee and acknowledge a freſh Inſtance of your Regard to the Welfare of this Kingdom, and we ſhall apply our utmoſt Attention to the framing ſuch Regulation of the Grants for theſe wiſe and benevolent Purpoſes, as may effectually prevent their being liable to Waſte or Miſapplication. And we are ſenſible of His Majeſty's paternal Attention in not calling on us for any extraordinary Supplies in this Time of general Hoſtility. We behold with a Spirit animated by juſt Reſentment, the unnatural and dangerous Combination of Enemies to which His Majeſty's Dominions are expoſed, and we entreat your Excellency to aſſure His Majeſty of our loyal and earneſt Diſpoſition to give him every Aſſiſtance compatible with our Means and Circumſtances. The general Concurrence with which the late ſpirited Offers of Aſſiſtance were preſented to your Excellency from every Part of this Kingdom, and the Manner in which they were accepted, muſt give univerſal Satisfaction; they afford an incontrovertible Proof of mutual Harmony between the Crown and People, and of a confident Reliance upon the Wiſdom and Uprightneſs of the Chief Governor; nor can the Public Security be ever ſhaken, while the Strength and Spirit of a brave People are directed by approved Loyalty to their Sovereign. The repeated Inſtances of your Excellency's Attention to the Safety and Proſperity of Ireland, claim our fulleſt Confidence; and we truſt that our Conduct will evince that we have ſincerely at Heart the Happineſs and Honour of your Excellency's Adminiſtration.

Tho. Ellis, Cler. Parl. Dom. Com.

His Excellency's Anſwer.

Gentlemen,

THIS cordial Addreſs makes the deepeſt Impreſſion upon my Mind, and demands my warmeſt Acknowledgments. It is my Ambition to enjoy your Confidence, and you may be aſſured of my conſtant Endeavours, to perſevere in that Line of Conduct, which has been already diſtinguiſhed by your unanimous Approbation.

The Repreſentations I am to make to His Majeſty, of your loyal Attachment to His Perſon and Government will give me the ſincereſt Pleaſure, and cannot fail of being acceptable to a Sovereign, whoſe chief Object is the Happineſs of all His People.
